SEEKS BURIAL WITH SLAIN SWEETHEART.

"Bob! Bob! I want to go with you!" shrieked Otto Hach Saturday morning, as he attempted to leap into the grave into which had just been lowered the coffin of his affianced wife, Barbara Reig, killed in an Irving Park shelter house, presumably by David Shellard, a Brooklyn policeman. The frantic man was restrained, and later, kneeling on the new-made grave, he vowed to find his sweetheart's slayer and avenge her death.

The funeral of Barbara Reig, who was killed Tuesday night, took place Saturday morning from her home in Maujer street, Brooklyn, followed by requiem mass at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, and so great was the crowd at the house that ten policemen were detailed to keep order. The burial was in Holy Trinity cemetery, where a distressing scene was enacted at the grave. As the coffin was lowered into the grave and the ropes cast off, there was a stir in the crowd of mourners, and, pushing his way through, Otto Hack, who was soon to have married Barbara, attempted to throw himself into the grave. Dave Reig, Barbara's brother, and her brother-in-law, stepped quickly forward and caught Hack by the arms. He became hysterical, crying out:

"Bob! Bob! They have taken you away and I want to go with you! They said you were not true to me, but I never believed them!"

Gradually Hack was quieted and remained calm until the grave diggers had finished their filling in, when he sank down on the new-made mound and exclaimed:

"I will find the man who murdered you, Barbara, if it takes me all my life!"

THE FISHER-RAYNER INCIDENT

Frankly declaring that her intense love for William B. Rayner was the cause of her recent act, Mrs. William B. Fisher, of Baltimore, on Saturday gave her version of her enlopement with the son of Maryland's senator, which ended in young Rayner being sent to a sanitarium for treatment. Mrs. Fisher is now stopping at the Hotel Walton in Philadelphia, where she went upon arriving in Baltimore from Norfolk on Thursday morning, and it was in the Quaker City that she told her story, which has added another interesting chapter to one of the biggest sensations that Baltimore society has known for sometime. Mrs. Fisher stated that she loves young Rayner and that he reciprocates her affection and that he is not insane. Mrs. Fisher denied that she had ever said to anyone that she hated her husband. "I never made any such statement," said she. "I do not hate him, nor do I hate my children. My husband is a very nice man. But I loved another, and I regret what I have done only for my children's sake. I am genuinely sorry for them. I feel lonely without them."

Asked if she loved Rayner, Mrs. Fisher said:

"Would a woman leave her husband and her children and be as blind to the future as I have been and run away with another man if she did not love him? I loved him madly. I loved him when he was drunk from absinthe, insanely drunk. Ah, that is the unfortunate part of it. I love him still," and she wrung her hands in her anguish.

Asked if she had heard in any manner from her husband since her elopement, she replied:

"Yes, I have heard from him. Only last night I was talking with him over the long distance telephone, and he was kindness itself to me and told me that he would still do anything he could to help me. And now tonight when I called him up on the phone again he refused to talk to me. It is these awful things quoted in the papers that have made him go back on me.

"Now I have no plans. I do not know what I am to do. Mr. Rayner is not insane, although it is difficult for me to tell just what he will do and when he will regain his liberty.

"He started today to get a divorce from his wife, so that he can marry me, and he will surely do so, but how can I wait? I am afraid it will kill me. Oh, it is too terrible for words. I don't know what to do."

United States Senator Isidor Rayner has been appointed a commissioner in lunacy over his son, William B. Rayner, who is now in strict surveillance. A consultation of physicians and alienists was held Friday evening to determine in what institution young Rayner shall be confined, but their decision, if any, has not been made public. Friends who know him say he spent at least $50,000 in his rambles.

Mrs. Fisher was a Miss Ridgely and belonged to one of the old families of Maryland. Her husband is a member of the firm of J. Hennanus Fisher & Sons, a firm of bankers and brokers which has been prominent in financial circles in Baltimore for two generations. He has already brought suit for divorce and it is unlikely that Mrs. Fisher will contest it

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 27, 1908.

It is said in Cincinnati that the candidate for the U. S. Senate from Ohio is not Foraker, nor Burton, nor Governor Harris, nor former Governor Herick, but that it is Charles P. Taft, brother of the candidate for the presidency. Public announcement of his ambition has not yet been made, and is known only to a few of his close personal friends, but the senatorship, it is claimed, is to be his reward for his activities in the fight for his brother. When Secretary Taft was first urged to become a candidate he balked because he did not have the necessary financial backing. Urged on by Mr. Roosevelt with promises of the president's political support, he was told to find the money. He went to Charles P., who is many times a millionaire. "If you will get that promise in writing," said brother Charles, "I will furnish the money." Mr. Roosevelt's verbal promise was reiterated and the campaign began, but when the wholesale organization of officeholders, ostensibly in Mr. Roosevelt's interest began, Secretary Taft became disturbed. Charles P. Taft then sent Arthur I. Vorys to Mr. Roosevelt with two demands: First, that he take steps to stop the organization of officeholders by Hitchcock. Second, that he write another public letter that he would not accept the presidency. Mr. Roosevelt did not wish to comply with the second condition, but finally the letter was issued. With all this accomplished, Charles P. Taft now is in the field for Foraker's seat, which he thinks should come to him as a reward for his labors.

At the close of business on Thursday the expenditures of the government showed an excess over the receipts amounting to over $20,000,000. The receipts have fallen off as compared with those for the corresponding month last year, while there has been an increase in disbursements. For the first three weeks of July the receipts for customs were about $5,500,000 behind those for the corresponding days of July, 1907, a decrease of nearly 28 per cent. There has also been a reduction, through a smaller one, in the receipts from internal revenue sources. It is realized at Washington that there must be a decided improvement in conditions soon if the receipts from customs are to show an increase before the fall. It may be worth while to note that in July last the deficit amounted to only a little over $10,900,000, or not much more than half of the deficit for the portion of the current month that has elapsed.

The democrats have selected Mr. Norman E. Mack, of New York, to be chairman of their national committee. Mr. Mack is said to be a man of character and force, thoroughly familiar with politics, especially in New York, and entirely loyal to Mr. Bryan. His selection as chairman is an assurance of an energetic and judicious campaign, and it creates reasonable hopes of carrying New York. When Mr. Odell ran for governor of that state a few years ago his majority was only 8,000, and two years ago the republicans elected no one on their ticket except Governor Hughes. It is by no means visionary to regard New York as a doubtful state.

A "natural corner" in oats came to a sudden end in Chicago Saturday, the price of the July delivery dropped six cents a bushel there. The severe slump caused little excitement, however, owing to the fact that trade in that option had been small for some time because of the congested market. Likelihood that that movement of the new crop will begin on a liberal scale in the next few days was chiefly responsible for the decline. The price at the opening was 56½ cents, and shortly before the close it had touched 50½ cents. Corners in grain are very uncertain quantities.

Men who are making the American Niagara falls grind out electricity for them ought to be satisfied with the bounties of nature, but they are not; they demand also bounties from the government. They complain, says the Philadelphia Record, that electricity produced by the Canadian falls is coming into the United States and competing with theirs, and presume they are ready to show that the Canadian falls work for lower wages than our own, and to argue that they ought to have a protective duty equal to the difference between the cost of employing the American and Canadian water-power.

President Roosevelt has accepted the honorary presidency of the peace and arbitration league which is the outgrowth of the North Carolina congress and which has as its objective adequate armament and effective arbitration. The President's recent utterances would lead one to think that he would rather be president of a war than a peace league.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 27.

Bloated bondholders and bad corporations are to be succeeded as chief factors in the coming political campaign by newspaper men. The republican campaign committees have taken the lead, and there is every promise that before a fortnight the scramble to sign up distinguished journalists will be lively. The literary bureau which Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock, of the national committee, organized to support the Taft pre-convention campaign will be increased and continued. Experienced, diplomatic newspaper men will be sent out in all directions, under the instructions of Hitchcock. They will not only see that Taft news gets into the various newspapers, but they will act as a secret service force to report the doings of the enemy of their chieftain. The republican congressional committee has adopted similar tactics. When it became desirable to find a secretary to succeed Representative Loudenslager, slated for the chairmanship of the committee, Representative Dawson, an Iowa newspaper man, was selected because he knows republican news when he sees it. The democrats are arranging to meet the republicans on their own battleground, and will engage the services of the best newspaper men that they can secure, to scatter the doctrines of the democracy. Col. Henry Watterson was appointed chairman of the Bryan newspaper brigade at the meeting of the sub-committee of the democratic national committee in Chicago Saturday evening. The candidate himself has announced that he will prepare a number of editorials for democratic newspapers to be used during the campaign over his signature. Chairman Lloyd and Secretary Ofark of the democratic congressional committee are holding a conference in Washington today to lay plans for publicity work for that organization. Politicians regard this style of campaigning quite as effective as the stump-speaking variety.

Francis Curtis, director of the joint literary bureau of the national republican and congressional republican committees today received a telegram from Chairman Hitchcock requesting Curtis to be prepared to move literary headquarters to New York Saturday. Hitchcock announced that he would arrive in Washington Wednesday morning.

Contracts have been awarded by the Navy Department today to the Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern, Norfolk & Western and Seaboard Airline Railways for the transportation of 720 United States sailors from Norfolk to San Francisco.

Notwithstanding the fact that the president has approved the recommendation for dismissal in the case of the eight cadets who were convicted of hazing at West Point, Secretary of War Wright will throughly investigate the cases personally and have a conference on the subject with the president next Friday.

The visit of Tenshaoyi, Chinese representative mandarin who has arrived at San Francisco ostensibly to thank the United States government for refunding the Boxer indemnity, is declared there today to have far more serious purpose.

Rev. Waldron, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church and president of the Negro Political League, delivered a political sermon last night in which he denounced Taft and the Roosevelt administration, urged his race to break away from the republican party and become independent in the future. He said: "Every vote by a colored man for William J. Bryan is one vote for the manhood and political rights of the negro race and two votes against William H. Taft and the Roosevelt policies."

It is thought probable that the United States will allow Holland to go just as far as she pleases in trying to force President Castro to terms, with the sole limitation that she shall not attempt to seize any Venezuelan territory. The Monroe doctrine can not be invoked to save Castro from his promised "spanking." The Gelderland, which was sent to Puerto Cabello to take away Minister DeReus, is the only Dutch war vessel at present in American waters, so far as the Navy Department here is informed. It is probable, however, that Holland has one or two small gunboats in her West Indian possessions. The Gelderland is a 20-knot protected cruiser. She is 310 feet long, with a displacement of 4,000 tons. She carries two 5.9 inch guns and six 4.7 inch guns, besides befitted with four torpedo tubes. Up to one o'clock today the State Department had received no information from the Dutch government of its intention to make a naval demonstration against Venezuela nor had it any suggestion from Holland as to the possible co-operation of the United States in her determination to bring Castro to terms. No communication whatever from the Venezuelan subject has reached the department.

Acting under orders from the president, the interstate commerce commission today issued a statement which is regarded as tantamount to service of notice on shippers and railroads alike that it will interpose its authority against the proposed increase of railroad rates in southeastern territory.

Truman H. Newberry, assistant secretary of the navy, returned to Washington this morning after a week's absence, during which he attended the naval conference with the president at Newport, R. I., last week. He resumed the duties of acting secretary during the absence of Secretary Metcalf, who is in California for the summer.

Major Sylvester has issued orders to close certain streets south of Pennsylvania avenue to all citizens. Five arrests were made Saturday night. Many men who have to pass through that section were stopped and made to take another route.

The Prince in Quebec.

Quebec, July 27.—Today wagons of comparative ease for the Prince of Wales who early today took a train to the famous Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, he Lourdes of America, and where, it s declared, miracles of healing are accomplished.

Returning to the city the prince and his suite had luncheon and later in the afternoon were present at a regatta on the St. Lawrence in which crews of British, French and American battleships took part. A great crowd witnessed the racing and both the prince and Vice President Fairbanks received cheers. The battleship New Hampshire men were granted their first shore leave yesterday and today scores of them, arm in arm with the French and English tars parade the city.

Vice President Fairbanks has been invited to dine with the prince at the Citadel tomorrow night and has accepted. This came as a courtesy following a call made by the prince and his suite upon Vice President Fairbanks at Spencerwood, the residence of Lieut. Gov. Jette, which is being occupied by the American representative during the celebration.

Demarest, a guest.

Mrs. Harriet Fisher was the only woman present among 400 men at the banquet given by the National Manufacturers' Association some weeks ago in New York. At Harriet Fisher's factory in Trenton, N. J., were made all the anvils now ringing in the American smithies along the route of the Panama canal.

Arthur I. Vorys will not manage the republican presidential campaign in Ohio. The conduct of the campaign in Ohio will be under Hitchcock's control, just as it is in the other States, and Vorys is to become Mr. Taft's chief of staff in the field of politics. His work will not be confined to Ohio.

Mrs. Rachel Price, aged 40, wife of J. H. Price, of Big Stone Gap, while temporarily insane Saturday murdered her 5-year-old daughter by crushing her skull with an axe. After striking the blow the woman took the child in her arms and started toward Appalachia, but was met on the way by men, who, seeing the condition of the child, took the little one from the mother, who collapsed when she reached the home. The woman admits the killing, but can give no reasons for the rash act. Mrs. Price, who went there from North Carolina, has heretofore shown no signs of insanity. She is the mother of several children by a former husband. The dead girl is the child of her present husband.

Mafia Threat.

New York, July 27.—Furious because Judge Otto Rosalsky had sentenced him to ten years in Sing Sing, Cosmo Riccobino today threatened the jurist with the vengeance of the Mafia in open court.

"The Mafia will get you for this," he shouted in Italian, at the judge. And then, turning to a gathering of Italians near the court room door he cried. "He gave me ten years. Take care of him."

By the time the threat of Riccobino had been translated to the court all of the Italians had disappeared.

He was one of the three Italians who on May 25 held up Samuel Edelman, a messenger for the Jefferson Bank and attempted to rob him of $43,000 he carried in a satchel. By a woman's bravery they foiled the robbers and Riccibino was captured. When the Italian came before Judge Rosalski in general sessions today he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the limit of the law. This angered the Italian and the threat followed.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 27.—All through the first hour the market showed a wavering tone and at the end of the hour prices generally showed moderate declines from Saturday's closing figure. Governments unchanged; other bonds quiet and steady.

Today's Telegraphic News

Political.

Chicago, July 27.—Norman B. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, left here today for his home in Buffalo. On Tuesday he will announce the entire personnel of the national executive committee. The chairman will be John E. Lamb, of Indiana. Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, will be vice chairman and among the other members will be Harvey Garber, of Ohio; Roger Sullivan, of Illinois and representatives of every doubtful state in the union.

Before Bryan left for Lincoln last night an attempt was made to have him meet with the leaders of the independence party, now holding their convention in this city. He positively refused to have anything to do with them.

National headquarters will be opened in the Auditorium Annex. Branch headquarters will be in the Hoffman House in New York.

It has been decided that Bryan will make a stirring campaign and will make speeches in every doubtful state. The executive committee will make all arrangements so soon as it is named and it will also draft John W. Kern, the vice presidential candidate, for a tour of the states. Both Bryan and Kern will go to the Pacific coast, as Oregon and California are declared by the democratic committeeman from those states to be doubtful.

Cincinnati, O., July 27.—Judge Taft opened his headquarters at the Hotel Sinton today and began hand shaking and the conferring with politicans. Arthur Vorys who will be his chief adviser in Ohio, spent some time in the candidate's office. The workmen have finished building the platform and constructing boxes about the shrubbery about the lawn where the notification exercises are to come off tomorrow. The principal business of the day will be the meeting of the republican state central committee which Judge Taft will attend.

New York, July 27.—Bubbling with excitement which is plainly visible despite their attempts at unconcern, republican leaders from all over the state are streaming into New York today to meet State Chairman Woodruff to decide whether Governor Hughes, demand for another term will be met with open war. The declaration of William Barnes, jr., "boss of Albany" that he will fight Hughes is taken as a rallying point by many foes of the governor but many others predict open defeat.

The Dutch are Angry.

Amsterdam, July 27.—In retaliation for the summary expulsion of J. H. Deerus, the Dutch minister to Venezuela, it was officially announced today that all Dutch warships in American waters have been ordered to make a demonstration against Venezuela. Unless President Castro makes an immediate apology it is probable that the Dutch will bombard La Guayra and Porto Cabello, the principal coast town of Venezuela.

Willemstad, July 25.—The rupture between the Netherlands and Venezuela grows out of the strained relations between the Island of Curacao, Dutch West Indies, and Venezuela. President Castro placed many restrictions upon Curacao's shipping industry during the recent prevalence of the plague in his country and seized several Dutch vessels.

The situation here is clearly beyond the control of the police and governmental repressive measures will have to be resorted to to keep the Curacaons from committing some breach that will lead to the most serious consequences.

The official announcement from Amsterdam today that the Netherlands government has decided to make a hostile naval demonstration against Venezuela, was received with great interest, and a certain amount of satisfaction by officials of the State and Navy Departments. The Dutch propose to demand an apology from President Castro for his high handed acts and in the event that this is not promptly forthcoming, will doubtless take energetic steps to compel redress.

The Independence Party.

Chicago, July 27.—"Up in the air," expresses conditions in the so-called independence party which opened its first national convention in Orchestra Hall today.

William Randolph Hearst is the center of attraction. His headquarters at the Annex are crowded today with delegates who are appealing to him to take the leadership and bring the elements together but he declares he will express no preference as to what the convention shall do. He and his lieutenants declare he will not express any preference as to who shall be nominated for the presidency.

There is a general sentiment among the middle western delegates of opposition to putting a national ticket in the field. They want the convention to adopt a declaration of principles for the people's benefit and then concentrate their influences on electing state officers in the states where the party is strong. Their suggestions, however, are not being well received as the big chiefs insist the convention must put a ticket in the field. The platform to be adopted will advocate what are best known as the "Hearst politics" and the New York editor is understood to have with him most of the main planks ready for insertion.

The leading candidates for the presidential nomination are: Howard, of Alabama; Graves, of New York and Atlanta; Taylor, of Illinois; Hisben, of Massachusetts; Neal, of Indiana; Walsh, of Iowa. Hisgen has a lead over his rivals.

The national committee of the organization met in the Annex at ten today and completed the preliminary arrangements for the convention. W. R. Hearst was selected as temporary chairman.

To be Recalled.

Bucharest, July 27.—Charging Horace G. Knowles, United States minister to Roumania, with the exceeding his authority in negotiating an extradition treaty with Roumania, which the United States repudiated, the Roumanian government today feels embittered against the United States and will likely ask the recall of Knowles. Knowles is accused of representing to the Roumanian government that he was authorized to conclude an extradition treaty, whereas it develops that he was merely empowed to draft a tentative measure for submission to his government. A formal demand for the recall of Knowles will undoubtedly be made. The anti-American feeling engendered by the incident will likely hamper the American trade enterprises in the Balkans.

Turkey Excited.

Constantinople, July 27.—Reshid Effendi, brother of the sultan, made a demand upon the ruler today for the transfer of the throne to him. The demand to forestall the sultan in his reported plan to yield the throne to his son, Burhan-Ed-Dinwho is fifteenth in line of succession. Burhan-Ed-Din is the sultan's fifth child and is but 21-years-old. He is the sultan's favorite, however, and for some time it has been regarded that he had been chosen for speedy succession to the throne, despite the violation of all precedent that such action would involve. Reshid Effendi is immensely popular with the soldiers and if it develops that the sultan plans to override the established order in favor of his son his brother could easily secure a formidable backing to contend for the throne. Reshid Effendi's demand has come as a discordant note in the general rejoicing over the constitution just granted by the sultan. Today 200,000 people assembled before the Yildiz Kiosk and widely cheered the sultan and the constitution. Such scenes were never before witnessed in Turkey. The demonstration was a culmination of that which began Saturday and has lasted almost without interruption since then. In the shouts, parades, cheers and waving of flags and banners, the scene resembled more a demonstration by some western European power than by Turks.

Thaw's Attorney.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 27.—Justice Tompkins today granted an order for the substitution of A. Russell Peabody, as attorney in person in behalf of Harry K. Thaw in place of James Graham of Newburgh, who conducted Thaw's first habeas corpus case. Justice Tompkins limits the substitution to the appeal from the decision of Justice Morschauser and does not eliminate Graham from the list of Thaw's attorneys.

Saw Husband's Head.

San Jose, Cal., July 27.—Speech from her husband's head, which apparently severed, lay in the path at her feet has almost wrecked the reason of Mrs. S. S. Sloan, of Boulder Creek, today. Sloan had disappeared and his wife searching the farm for him saw his head in a path. Despite his cries she fled screaming to the farm of a neighbor, who, hastening back found Sloan buried to the neck by a land slide from a neighboring hill. He was unhurt beyond a broken shoulder.

Mme Goold Dead.

Berlin, July 27.—Mme. Vero St. Leger Goold, serving a life sentence at Cayone for the murder of Emma Levin, in the famous trunk mystery at Monte Carlo a year ago, died today of typhoid fever. Mme. Gould was at first sentenced to be guillotined, along with her husband, who was found jointly guilty of the murder, but the authorities finally commuted her sentence to life imprisonment at penal servitude, though she insisted that she meet the same fate as her husband. The Goolds murdered the Levin woman for her jewels.

The Virginia Christian College has just been advised to draw upon Andrew Carnegie for $30,000, the amount promised the college upon condition that it raised $30,000. This will be done at once and the work will be started soon upon a boy's domitory to cost $20,000.

After a six-hour session in Richmond Saturday the council committee on the relief of the poor, which Friday night inquired into the the circumstances attending the murder of baby Vaughan at the City Home, brought in a report, which, in effect, exonerates every one connected with the institution from any suspicion of negligence.

Drought of a month, which has devastated Virginia, has been broken by showers and storms in all sections during the last several days. Prior to that time it had been believed that the crop would be materially damaged. Tobacco especially was suffering from the protracted dry spell. It is now apparent, however, that the rains came in the nick of time and that the crop will be saved. The injury already sustained will not be material.

Orders were issued by Adjutant General Anderson on Saturday disbanding two military companies attached to the Seventy-first Virginia and mustering in one company to be assigned to the Seventy-second. The two companies are disbanded as a result of inspections recently made by Colonel Jo Lane Stern, assistant inspector-general. One is at Newport News and the other at Franklin. The new company at Roanoke, known as Company F., has been assigned to the Seventy-second Regiment.

RETURNS AND SLAYS WIFE.

Louis Armour, 50 years old, murdered his wife, tried to kill his daughter and attempted suicide at Toledo, Ohio, yesterday, and then escaped. Coming back to his wife's house for the second time in sixteen years, Armour met her as she was leaving for church. When she refused again to take him back, he pulled a revolver and fired two or three times, killing her. Her daughter rushed to her side, and a bullet missed her. Then the man placed the gun to his head and pulled the trigger, but it failed to go off. Then he fled.

Armour left his family sixteen years ago, and was never seen there again till five weeks ago, when he appeared, and tried to win back his home. His wife rejected him, and he left. He returned again yesterday.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Excitement reigns supreme in eastern Oklahoma today. Negroes and Indian allottees of nine million acres of Indian lands which became saleable at midnight, when the government restriction was removed, are being royally entertained by persons eager to buy their property. Thousands of dollars are changing hand and in many cases leases are being taken on land not already brought.

Crazed by fear when lightning split the flag pole of a tent in which he was being exhibited at McDonald, Pa., "Leapo," a "wild man" leaped upon John Dudley, a negro, yesterday, and so injured him that he is dying today. While a whole throng of spectators looked on in dread the "wild man" seized Dudley by the throat with his teeth and worried him as a terrier does a mouse.

Apparently "down and out" Walter Scott, ("Scotty of Death Valley,") whose spectacular effort a few months ago created interest has left the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco owing a four days board bill. His indebtedness, including champagne and other extras, is about $500. There is no clue to his whereabouts.

Denouncing Samuel Gompers for his order deposing Patrick Lynch, a republican party worker, from the presidency of the Central Labor Union in Philadelphia and declaring that it is but part of a plan to Bryanize the unions of Philadelphia, members of that organization there are putting up a fight against the dictum of the the president of the Federation of Labor. Gompers himself will be there Wednesday to take a hand in the war. Frank Morrison, who is Gompers representative and secretary of the federation ordered Lynch ousted and John J. Murphy placed in the president's chair.

Incipient insanity due to the bite of a dog is the plea by which Frank Zastera hope to escape hanging when his trial was called at Freehold, N. J., today for the murder of W. B. Sheppard, his wife and their maid, Jennie Bendy. Zastera had already confessed.

The coroner's investigation of the murder of Hazel Drew will be inaugurated at Averill Park, Troy, N. Y., this afternoon. District Attorney O'Brien and his officers have followed every clew possible to throw light on the case, but say they are without any evidence upon which to base an arrest.

RODE STURGEON ACROSS THE BAY.

"From Newport News to Norfolk on the back of a fish is going some, if you will listen to me," said a member of the sporting fraternity who passed through the city yesterday after a couple of weeks at the seashore. "It's got that story about Jonah and the whale beat to death."

He then proceeded to get off a tale which would make Isaak Walton, Baron Munchausen, or any of the rest of the old sports, fade away. The truth of the story, he said, he would vouch for, as it was told him by one of the most honest "old niggers" in the country.

"This particular scion of Ham," said the sporting gent, "is mighty fond of booze, and on the day of his marvelous ride he could not scrape up the price of a shoot in Newport News, but knew of a friend in the city across the way who would probably be able to deliver the goods if he could be reached. The rest of the story is better told in his own language.

"'I wuz jes' sittin' in my skiff wonderin' how I could make der trip, when I hear a big noise longside de boat. When I look over, dar wuz de bigges' sturgeon I ever see. 'Fore I hardly knowed it I was settin' straddle of dat fish wid my hans in he gills and goin' to Norfolk bout a mile a minute. VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

For the first time in many years the republican party is making a strong bid for members of Congress in Virginia. Five candidates of that party are already in the field. Two more are to be named on Thursday of next week. The democrats have already named eight of the ten candidates, two more to be named shortly, in the Seventh and Eighth districts. The primary in the Norfolk district has four aspirants. A convention is to be held in the Ninth district early in August to name a candidate. It looks at this time as if the Rev. Tyler Frazier, a retired minister, will be nominated.

The republicans have made the following nominations in opposition to the democrats:

First district—George N. Wise, Newport News.

Third district—John G. Luce, Goochland.

Sixth district—Mercer Hartman, Roanoke.

Seventh district—C. L. Pritchard, Winchester.

Ninth district—C. Bascomb Slemp, Big Stone Gap, incumbent, will be renominated.

CRUISE ENDED.

After a ten days' cruise in the waters of the lower Chesapeake, during which time they have participated in a theoretical defense of Hampton Roads, the Naval Reserves of the District, aboard the cruiser Yankee, steamed up the Potomac yesterday, arriving here shortly after 4:30 o'clock.

Dispatches received from those in command of the local sailors state the maneuvers just completed were the most important ever held by the volunteer naval forces. The reserves from the District were combined with the naval battalions of Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and North and South Carolina.

By a strange coincidence, the Yankee arrived a day earlier than the original schedule, and anchored several miles above the District National Guard encampment, thus centering the defensive forces of Washington within a few miles of this city. The men experienced some real seagoing weather when the storm broke over the river last night. About 7:30 last evening a very exciting race took place between a barge and gig attached to the cruiser in which the barge was victor. At night the display of electrical signals were beautiful and attracted considerable attention. The next of the maneuvers will be mimic warfare will be in Gardiners Bay, Massachusetts, with the New England reserves aboard the practice ships, followed by maneuvers in the Gulf of Mexico with the south Atlantic and gulf state reserves aboard.

The District reserves which have enjoyed a ten days' outing left this city this morning on the 9:45 ferry boat for Washington.

It is understood that Captain William Luckett, one of the oldest and best pilots on the river, brought the cruiser Yankee up the river yesterday.

The Yankee sailed from this port at 2:45 o'clock this evening.

Richard Pines, colored, arrested by Officer Henderson for permitting a nuisance, was fined $2.

A young man, arrested by Officer Beach for abusive language, was dismissed.

GOES DOWN AGAIN.

A crippled shadow of a human being known as Tom Farrell, colored, who has a bootblack stand on King street, appeared in the Police Court to answer the charge of using a black jack. One of his victims could not appear and the other, a woman, had an eye as large as an ordinary teacup. Being a very dark woman it had turned green. The trouble arose over some lace curtains belonging to Tom which the prisoner said she had taken for her use. Tom said in his defense that the victim cursed and abused him and said the "jail did not talk" and that one of the men in her company had reached in his pocket for something and he said the "night had no eyes." "Taking a view of the surroundings and being a crippled negro," he said, he proceeded to make his stick talk with the result that the next lace curtain he gazes on will be 60 days hence.

DEATH OF AGED ALEXANDRIAN

Word has been received of the death of De Witt Clinton Smith at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Annie G. Browne, in Wheeling, W. Va. He was aged eighty-five years, and was born and reared in this city. Most of his youth was spent in Alexandria. He saw all the presidents of the United States with the exception of two, and witnessed the first Baltimore and Ohio train run into Washington. He saw also the body of Gen. George Washington when it was exhumed and reinterred at Mount Vernon. Mr. Smith a few months ago paid a visit to his old home in this city, and while in Washington called on President Roosevelt. He has a number of relatives living in this city.

SWIMS TO ALEXANDRIA.

As mentioned in the Gazette on Saturday Eugene Green, a colored employe at the bathing beach, yesterday accomplished the feat of swimming from the Alexandria ferry slip, at the foot of Seventh street Washington, to Alexandria, a distance of a little more than five miles in two hours and 40 minutes.

Green started at 8:55 and finished at 11:35. He was accompanied the entire distance by a man in a rowboat, and appeared to be in excellent condition when he landed.

A GOOD CORN CROP.

Farmers in this city this morning from the surrounding country report heavy rains but no material damage to growing vegetation in their sections, and further assert that this will be the best corn year in the history of this section of the state.

POOR BOX ROBBED.

Thieves entered St. Mary's Church yesterday afternoon by means of the front door which is always left open during the day. They then barred the doors on the inside to prevent being discovered, broke open the poor box which is in front of the auditorium proper, rifled it of its contends and escaped by a side entrance. There are no clues to the thief or thieves. It was noticed that a stranger, a bald head man, slender built, with dark moustache, who was supposed to be present for prayers and who sat through the entire services, including vespers, is the man responsible for the robbery. Chief Goods was sent for yesterday when it was discovered and today he is searching the tramp camps around this city for the man who answers this description.

SUSPECTED OF PETIT LARCENY.

A colored man by the name of Arthur Watts was arrested on Saturday night suspected of the larceny of $24 from a contracting plasterer by the name of J. H. Fary, on some houses being constructed by Mr. Dinwiddie at St. Elmo. Mr. Fary told the police that three $5 bills and nine $1 bills were taken Saturday from his trousers, which were hanging on a building in course of construction at St. Elmo. He suspected Watts, and Watts was subsequently escorted to police headquarters. He told the police that rather than have the stigma of petit larceny connected with his name he would make the loss good, although he denied having taken the money. Watts afterward gave a check for the money, and was allowed to depart, the arrangement being satisfactory to Fary.

TESTS TO BEGIN THIS WEEK.

Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin, whose tests of the new dirigible airship for the army signal corps are being eagerly awaited by those interested in aeronautics, spent yesterday morning at Fort Myer talking with two of his mechanics who have reported at the Fort Myer balloon house from the Curtis Engine Works, at Hammondsport, N. Y., where the motors and engines for the airship were built. It is understood that the tests will begin about Saturday.

EXCITEMENT LAST NIGHT.

During the heavy rain, which was almost blinding at times last night, the steamer St. Johns, the Colonial Beach excursion boat, on her way up the river ran aground near Marshall Hall and remained in that condition for some time, causing considerable anxiety among her many passengers. The steamer was floated about 10:30 and reached this city about an hour late. No damage was done.

REGIMENT FOR FORT HUNT.

The regiment of District soldiers to do duty at Fort Hunt passed this city about 10 o'clock yesterday morning on the steamer Jane Moseley, arriving there about 10:30. The battery of light artillery, which went overland to Fort Hunt by way of this city, did not arrive until 6 o'clock in the evening. The guns were parked on the parade ground, near the west end of the reservation.

ELKS' DRAMATIC CLUB.

The excursion of the Elks' Dramatic Club which was postponed from last week on account of the rain, will take place tomorrow night. Every amusement to entertain those who go is promised and the committee has worked hard to make it a success. If it is a pleasant night it is expected a large crowd will meet the steamer Jamestown.

THE WEATHER.

The temperature during the past two days has somewhat moderated and since Saturday evening the mercury has not gotten over 88. Heavy rains fell during last night and early this morning, soaking the ground and giving new life to vegetables, but causing great humidity in the atmosphere. At noon today the mercury registered 82°.

DILAPIDATED APPEARANCE.

A white woman, apparently weary and worn, was seen trudging up Union street yesterday morning with blood streaming from her face. Her clothes were covered and she presented a pitiable sight. As no report was made to the station house it is thought that she either tried to stop a freight train or had a love spat with her better half.

WEEDS MUST BE CUT.

S. W. Pierce, sanitary inspector of Berkley ward, Norfolk, has decided that property owners and residents of Berkley will be required to cut down all weeds on their premises. In the event that the order is not complied with the said weeds will be cut by the city at the expense of the said residents or property owner. A good order and it should be done in this city.

WILL PROTECT OFFICER.

Justice Caton was not slow in showing that he would protect the officers who reported those guilty of maintaining a nusances on their premises when, this morning, he fined a colored man $2 who killed a dog and deposited it on a dump. He was brought before the court by Special Officer Carter, who made his case good.

AMUSEMENT COMPANIES.

The Alexandria Amusement Company will place on exhibition tonight two new reels, "Magnetic Vapor" and the "Hand of Fate." These are exceedingly interesting reels and will be highly enjoyed. Mrs. Fannie Fisher will again delight the audience with her solos.

At the Opera House "The King of Africa" will be presented and it is pronounced good.

Penance For Discourtesy.

Nicholas I., czar of Russia, was the type of an absolute aristocrat. The succession of terrible wars which clouded his reign did not tend to soften his disposition or to render him less imperious. But, rough and harsh as he was, Nicholas had a measure of chivalry in his disposition. He would not tolerate under any circumstances an insult offered to a woman. As the czar was driving through the streets of St. Petersburg he caught sight of an officer of his household in the act of upsetting an old beggar woman whose hands were raise in a prayer for alms. The official was quite unmindful of the august witness of his act and was rather pleased when, a few hours later, he was summoned to the imperial presence. Nicholas soon undeceived him and in the presence of a dozen courtiers cut him to the quick with his indignant reproof.

"Enough!" said Nicholas finally. "You will walk up and down that corridor all night, and every time you turn you will say in a loud voice: 'I am a puppy! I am a puppy.'"

Carried Out Instructions.

Every sailor has his story of the mistakes which landlubbers make over the names of things at sea, which always seem to be exactly the opposite of what they are on land.

A new boy had gone on board a West India ship, upon which a painter had also been employed to paint the ship's side. The painter was at work upon a staging suspended under the ship's stern.

The captain, who had just got into a boat alongside, called out to the new boy, who stood leaning over the rail, "Let go the painter!"

Everybody should know that a boat's painter is the rope which makes it fast, but this boy did not know it. He ran aft and let go the ropes by which the painter's staging was held. Meantime the captain was wearied with waiting to be cast off.

"You rascal!" he called. "Why don't you let go the painter?"

"He's gone, sir," said the boy briskly. "He's gone—pots, brushes and all!"—London Standard.

She Wanted to Know.

A little woman with wilton carpet floral designs on her hat came into the uptown Pennsylvania ticket office the other day and bought a ticket for a point down the state.

She gathered up her ticket and asked for a little folder because it had a picture on it in colors of a girl waving goodby to somebody from the end of a train. Then she placed her ticket inside her purse and the purse inside a little satchel and put the satchel inside her shopping bag, which she carried in a small alligator traveling bag. Just before she started out she inquired of City Passenger Agent Dillon, who had been waiting on her, "How long before my train starts?"

"You'll just about have time to make it," Dillon told her. "It leaves the Union station in about seventeen minutes."

"Seventeen minutes," she repeated, "and is that by central time or eastern time?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Only One Alternative.

A cynic was smiling at the extravagant attentions that are lavished by the rich upon pet dogs. He spoke of the canine operations for appendicitis, the canine tooth crownings, the canine wardrobes, that occur in New York, and then he said:

"How servants hate these pampered curs! At a house where I was calling one warm day the fat and pompous butler entered the drawing room and said:

"'Did you ring, madam?'

"'Yes, Harrison. I wish you to take Fido out walking for two hours.'

"Harrison frowned slightly. 'But Fido won't follow me, madam,' he said.

"'Then, Harrison, you must follow Fido.'"

Leaving Home.

I would give a few words of encouragement to any young man who may hesitate about leaving home. There is nothing in the world so good for a man, say, between twenty-five and thirty-five years of age, especially if unmarried, as a visit to distant countries, to learn other tongues, to see new sights and to experience strange adventures, such as he may readily encounter by throwing aside the restrictions of home life and taking up work abroad.—Frederic Shelford, B. Sc., in Engineer.

Point Not Well Taken.

"I observe," said the editor of the magazine, looking over the manuscript that had been submitted to him by the aspiring author thereof, "that you have used the phrase 'lean hours.' How can there be such a thing as a 'lean' hour?"

"Why not?" demanded the other. "There is such a thing as a spare moment, isn't there?"—Chicago Tribune.

Good Advice.

Never forget the advice of Themistocles. Said that ancient, "I would bestow my daughter upon a man without money, but not upon money without a man." Just change money for title and see the different reading: "I would bestow my daughter upon a man without title, but not upon title without a man."—New York Press.
